Katoomba – Tamworth

*As we make our way down the mountain, you will no doubt wonder just how the explorers Blaxland, Wentworth and Lawson, accomplished their expedition all those years ago. Just imagine what must have gone through their minds then, without all the modern conveniences, roads and transport we have today. The Blue Mountains area is certainly an area to behold, but unfortunately time does not allow us to explore all the attractions and scenery this area holds; however, we hope you now have a greater appreciation of the beauty this area has. Today we start our homeward journey edging that bit closer to our great State of Queensland.
